THE FIERCEST FIRE

As Well as the Most Destructive Seen Here for Years.

STATE FAIR GROUND RESTAURANT

Leveled to the Ground in a Short Time by a Blaze Evidently of Incendiary Origin—Two Men Sent to Jail Charged with Starting the Fire. An Exciting Time.

The fiercest and in every way most serious fire Wheeling has experienced for several years, was that which broke out about 4:30 yesterday afternoon on the State Fair grounds, while the butchers' picnic was in progress. The fire was first seen under the porch at the south end of the restaurant building, just east of the front street entrance. This house is also occupied by Plat Zane, custodian of the grounds, and his family. The fire was but a trifling blaze when the alarm was given, but in a few seconds the entire south end of the building was wrapped in fierce flames. The blaze had scarcely broken out when there were loud yells of "Fire!" and in an inconceivably short time about a third of the immense crowd on the grounds was gathered near the burning building.

Chief Healy, of the fire department, was on the grounds with his buggy. When the cries were heard he started to drive up to give the alarm, but a wheel came off his buggy and he left it and ran up to the office foot. Subsequent developments raise a suspicion that the buggy was tampered with.

The flames spread with incredible rapidity, and it looked as if all the buildings near would be burned. There was no alarm box near, but Chief Healy called all the apparatus needed by telephone. When the engines arrived, the lack of hose plugs hampered them. With all the drawbacks, the department did very good work. The restaurant and nearly all the furniture in it, with the gates on each side and the fine trees surrounding, were totally destroyed.

The building cost nearly $4,000 ten years ago. With the contents the loss will be fully $1,000. It was insured for $1,800 in Rinehart & Tatum's agency.

There was a great deal of curiosity as to how the fire could have originated. It was first said several barrels of gasoline were under the porch, but this was found to be untrue. It is generally regarded as certain that the fire was started by an incendiary.

Frank Saunders was arrested on the grounds by Officer Scalle and Ben Watkins by Lieut. Lukins, charged with having started the fire. Squire Gillespie last night sent them to jail to await a hearing.

Just before the fire broke out Saunders was seen to emerge from under the house. He had two pistols, which he threw away, but the police found them. He and Watkins were together just before.

A small child of Mr. Zane's was sent to the cellar just before the fire, and came up and said there was a man there. Before an investigation could be started the fire broke out.

Several people were slightly burned, but nobody seriously. For a time it was thought there were several children burned in the house, but they all turned up. A pet dog lost his life.

Money Saving Excursions.

The Ohio Valley Excursion and Improvement Company, which was organized by a large number of merchants for the purpose of bringing into Wheeling trade excursions on each of the several railroads once a month, of which mention has been made in the INTELLIGENCER, has been handicapped badly by the recent tie-ups on the different roads on which their excursions were advertised. However, on yesterday a very large number of buyers were brought up over the Ohio River railroad, which shows conclusively that the scheme under ordinary circumstances is assured. The paper printed by the company is called The Ohio Valley Money Saver, and is a very attractive sheet. It has been distributed freely throughout every town within a hundred miles of the city. Several other excursions are still to come this month, and a large number of visitors are looked for.
